California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA)

For California Residents Only

The purpose of this notice is to provide information to California residents and to notify them of their rights under California law. This section is not applicable to and may not be relied upon by anyone other than California residents.

California’s “Shine The Light” law:

California’s “Shine The Light” law permits those of our customers who are California residents to annually request a list of their personal data (if any) that we have disclosed to third parties for direct marketing purposes in the preceding calendar year, and the names and addresses of those third parties. DiaSorin does not share any personal data with third parties for their direct marketing purposes.

Notices:
DiaSorin may, through a variety of online and offline sources, collect the following categories of personal information:

- Personal identifiers such as a real name, alias, postal address, unique personal identifier, online identifier, internet protocol address, email address, account name, telephone number.
- Internet or other electronic network activity information, including, but not limited to, browsing history, search history, and information regarding a consumer’s interaction with an Internet Web site, application, or advertisement.
- Professional or employment-related information.
- Education information.

The sources from which the personal information may be collected may include:

- the internet sites of the Company and its affiliates that you visit;
- you or your employer, such as via telephone, mail, email, or at trade shows, or in connection with potential employment or business opportunities;
- our customers, vendors, and suppliers
- third parties from whom we purchase contact data, such as LinkedIn

Such collected information may be used for the purposes described elsewhere within DiaSorin’s privacy policy.

Rights:

California residents have the right to request that we delete the personal data that we have collected about that resident. Please note that there are circumstances under which such a right of deletion does not apply, such as where it is reasonable for us to maintain the personal information to:

- Complete the transaction for which the personal information was collected, provide a good or service requested or reasonably anticipated, or otherwise perform a contract with the resident.
- Detect security incidents; protect against malicious, deceptive, fraudulent or illegal activity; or prosecute those responsible for that activity.
- Debug to identify and repair errors that impair existing intended functionality.
- Comply with a legal obligation.
- Comply with the California Electronic Communications Privacy Act.
- To enable solely internal uses that are reasonably aligned with the resident's expectations based on the relationship with us.
- To otherwise use the personal information, internally, in a lawful manner that is compatible with the context in which the resident provided the information.
California residents have the right to request that we disclose, with respect to that resident,

- The categories of personal information we have collected.
- The categories of sources from which we collected the personal information.
- The purpose for collecting or selling personal information.
- The categories of third parties with whom we share personal information.
- The specific pieces of personal information we have collected.

Please note that, in general, the categories of personal information we collect include those identified above and in DiaSorin’s privacy notice.

California residents have the right to not be discriminated against by us for any exercise of these rights.

Sale and Disclosure

In the preceding twelve (12) months DiaSorin has not sold personal information.

In order to exercise any rights to deletion or disclosure, please contact us at 1-800-328-1482 or compliance@diasorin.com. Please note that any requests may be subject to verification of the identification of the requestor.
